BRASS SUNDIALS

Original designs since 1964

For 56 years our family run business has been designing and crafting solid brass sundials of exceptional quality. Each dial is individually cast using the traditional art of sand molds.

Brass is an heirloom material and will last for hundreds of years after being cast into a sundial. Brass does not rust and over time it will develop a prized natural patina finish.

ABOUT OUR BRASS SUNDIAL FINISHES

Our brass sundials are sold in 3 different hand applied finishes.

1) Aged Patina Finish (AP) - A natural aged look which combines a softer brass background with varying degrees of verdigris surface.

2) Polished w/Verdigris Highlights (VH) - The background has a verdigris finish and the raised areas are polished which creates a two-tone look.

3) Polished Brass (PB) - No faux finish on this dial. Just polished to a shine.

The 3 finishes are unique to each sundial design and not offered in each finish. For example, a dial shown in the Aged Patina finish will only be available in that finish.

CAST IRON SUNDIALS

Quality designs at a value price point

In the 19th century cast iron became an affordable alternative to brass and bronze for outdoor decor, ornamental fences and fountains.

While less expensive than brass, the main tradeoff is that iron will rust. We apply a lacquer coat over the paint, but the dials will oxidize over time. All of our cast iron sundials have a painted dark verdi antique finish

FAMILY CAMPFIRE SKILLET

Scandinavian style outdoor skillet

The Family Campfire Skillet is based on a Scandinavian style of outdoor skillet designed to help introduce the concepts and ideas of outdoor cooking to children with the help of an adult.

By taking a small 6" diameter skillet and attaching a long angled wood and steel handle, children can safely learn to cook food like fried eggs and pancakes over an open fire and gain a sense of accomplishment. An adult handles the more complicated aspects of cooking such as flipping and turning the food.

ENAMEL ROUND PIE IRON

Lightweight stainless steel + enamel pie iron

This round pie iron is made from stainless steel pie iron with a quality baked enamel coating. The goal in designing this pie iron was to develop an alternative to cast iron that was not only lightweight, but also easy to clean and flexible in use from the grill, firepit or campfire. We feel this was accomplished with style and special design touches that Rome pie irons are known for.

The round design trims the excess bread and makes a perfect sealed pie that's just under 5" dia. Overall length 26" Weighs 1 lb

The unique hinge construction makes opening and closing the iron a smooth motion. Inside the iron is a stainless steel campfire flame image which imprints into the bread when it toasts. Great for all kinds of sweet and savory pocket treats. Just take two pieces of bread and fill with cheeses, preserves & jam etc...

PUDGIE REVOLUTION! COOKBOOKS

Up your pie iron skills with the pudgie revolution book series

Several years ago we were lucky enough to meet 3 lifelong friends who shared a healthy love of camping, spending time in the outdoors and most of all...making pudgie pies.

Their pie iron creativity resulted in their first book, which we were proud to publish, called "Pudgie Revolution! Pie Iron cookin' for food-lovin' campers." With fresh and imaginative recipes presented with great photography and a spiral binding for easy use at the campsite, the title has performed great for Rome and our dealers.

It didn't take long for Liv, Carrie & Jared to start working on a second cookbook which is called, "Pudgie Revolution 2 - Pushing Your Pie Iron's Potential." The latest book features more recipes that break the barriers of what you feel can be cooked in a pie iron.
