Dear Gardeners,

For 50 years Dalen has had the pleasure of having our hands in the North American garden. When we first sowed the seed of our manufacturing in 1975, we weren't sure how we would grow – or if we would even make it through the first season.

As many of you know, Dalen is a family business. Our family is literally embedded in our name, DALEN representing us as an acronym:

- D for David – our founder's son
- A for Alice – our founder's wife
- L for Laura – our founder's daughter
- E for Ellen – our founder's daughter
- N for Neal Caldwell – our founder

Like a garden, we are constantly in a state of change. While some of our products are perfectly simple, we are driven to continuously refine our work into innovative offshoots. Our owl, for example, began with a motionless fixed-head, which to this day is a flagship product for us. Since then we introduced rotating-head and solar-powered variants. Now we're offering advanced models equipped with sensors and cameras.

As we spring headstrong into a new era of gardening, we will always honor the roots that have nourished us for half a century. Our spirit of innovation is the fertile ground which allows us to flourish and thrive.

It has been a joy to grow in gardens all across the continent. We want to celebrate all gardens, no matter how small. Everyone could benefit by getting down to earth. Let's continue growing beautiful gardens, one plant at a time.

Thank you for 50 years!

Peter Caldwell

There are a lot of factors that can help you decide which plants will work best in your garden. Two important resources that help you choose which plants will work best for your area are created by the USDA and American Horticultural Society. Dalen suggests asking your local nursery which plants will work best for your garden.

HARDINESS ZONE MAP

The USDA Plant Hardiness Zone Map is the standard that gardeners and growers can use to decide which perennial plants are most likely to thrive at a location. The map is based on the average annual extreme minimum winter temperature, displayed as 10-degree F zones and 5-degree F half zones. Source, <https://planhardiness.ars.usda.gov/>

HEAT ZONE MAP

This Heat Zone Map is designed to show zones in the U.S. based off the number of "heat days" in a region. The definition of Heat Day is a day when the temperature exceeds 86 degrees F. Many plants begin to experience damage at this temperature.
